

Automated Universal Language Translation

MULTI-NATIONAL FORTUNE 500 CORPORATION EASILY TRANSLATES 1000's OF FOREIGN LANGUAGE DOCUMENTS INTO ENGLISH IN UNDER A WEEK

Like most large corporations, Valora's Fortune 200 client has offices and personnel all over the world. Conducting business on a truly global scale means managing documents and files in dozens of languages. With litigation support centralized in the United States, however, this client had a real need to bring document content onto a "level playing field." That meant converting foreign content to English. Expecting to hire a translation agency and pay many hundreds of thousands of dollars for manual translation, they contacted Valora for a better solution.

Valora's Project Manager quickly arranged a demonstration with the client to show them how the AutoTranslation process works. After seeing the demonstration, the client immediately agreed that this was the most cost-effective and efficient way to proceed. The client was flabbergasted when Valora's AutoTranslation quote was less than 1/10th what they had been quoted for traditional (manual) translation!

Using Valora's PowerHouse AutoServices Engine, Valora quickly and easily AutoTranslated several thousand documents from Spanish, French, German and Japanese into English in under a week. Covering file types ranging from email and other correspondence (faxes, memos, letters, etc.) to charts, spreadsheets and graphics, Valora's AutoTranslation service created a single, English-language baseline for all further analysis.

Once documents and files were in English, Valora was able to apply other automated services to the once-mixed population, supplying additional services, such as NearDuplicates, AutoIndexing and AutoRedaction.

With nearly all corporations today doing business in multiple countries and cultures, foreign language documents are a real and frequent concern for litigation, compliance, records retention and information governance. AutoTranslation helps managers, attorneys, and auditors alike easily review information stemming from foreign sources. Since AutoTranslation is accomplished in near real-time, there is no longer a need to delay actions while waiting for content to be translated by specialists. Rapid decision-making, sometimes even automated decision-making, combined with far lower costs make AutoTranslation an irresistible choice for assessing and managing document content in a global world.

The colorful map at the top of this page is called a "Language Map." It maps the most common world languages spoken by country. For example, red is English and blue is Spanish. Can you guess what orange is? [Arabic.]
